

The XM Radio Instant Traffic and Weather service is very necessary for all of the travelling I do in the St. Louis Metro Area. I think it is absolutely ridiculous that the FCC is trying to intrude on this valuable service. It's another example of a government agency interfering with something when they should just leave well enough alone. I pay for this service and I expect it to continue uninterrupted.